

Apply Today!

AEM/FDSC 3290 (2 credits) – Cornell Agribusiness Fellows 2017 International Study Trip to Chile

Apply Today!

WHAT?

- Study the development and operations of agricultural & food systems in Chile
- Observe and interact one-on-one with international agribusiness leaders
- Visit a variety of agribusiness firms, including farms, food and beverage processors, wholesalers, retailers, and export firms
- Understand industry influences from government and trade policy
- Interact with faculty and students at the University of Talca

WHEN?

- Informational meeting September 28th, 5-6pm, B02 Warren Hall
- Study Trip March 31st - April 9th, 2017 (Spring Break)
- Class meets three times before the trip and once afterwards

HOW?

- APPLY: Turn in completed application by 4PM OCTOBER 14TH to Marin Cherry (M10C Stocking Hall) or Erika Rose (201 Warren Hall), and sign up for a personal interview. Application available online at: <http://dyson.cornell.edu/people/todd-schmit>
- INTERVIEW: 20 minute interviews with instructors, October 17-20. Students notified of selections by October 31st
- COURSE FEE: $1,000 due by December 1, scholarships available based on financial need
- ENROLL! Students selected enroll in AEM/FDSC 3290 for the Spring 2017 semester.

For more information, contact one of the instructors:

Dr. Todd Schmit (tms1)
350A Warren Hall
255-3015

Dr. Elad Tako (et79)
227 Robert W. Holley Center
255-5434

Dr. Alicia Orta-Ramirez (ao98)
152A Stocking Hall
254-8381

 Farm Credit
Northeast AgEnhancement

TALCA
UNIVERSIDAD
CHILE